

Health Science Scholarship

The National Healthcare Group and Singapore Health Services are offering scholarships to good GCE 'A' level students to pursue Health Science courses in Physiotherapy, Occupational Therapy, Diagnostic Radiography and Radiation Therapy, tenable at Nanyang Polytechnic, and then at a recognised overseas university.

Health Science Professionals are key members of the healthcare teams in our hospitals, clinics and step-down care facilities like nursing homes. Their contributions are becoming increasingly important because of their involvement in the detection and management of major diseases such as cancer and stroke as well as other chronic conditions common to a rapidly aging population such as Singapore's.

Application

Candidates will be granted scholarships, subject to successful admission to the Diploma course at Nanyang Polytechnic and meeting entry requirements of the overseas university. (Applicants should apply online via Brightsparks Portal @ www.brightsparks.com.sg)
